PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATING TO THE 1954 CENSUS OF BUSINESS

(From Title 13 United States Code)

SECTION 131. The Secretary shall take, compile, and publish censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades, service establishments, and transportation (exclusive of means of transportation for which statistics are required by law to be filed with, and are compiled and published by, a designated regulatory body), in the year 1954 and every fifth year thereafter, and each such census shall relate to the year immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, That the censuses of manufacturers, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades and service establishments, directed to be taken in the year 1954 relating to the year 1953, shall be taken instead in the year 1955 relating to year 1954. The censuses provided for in this section shall include the United States and its Territories and such Possessions as the Secretary may determine.

SECTION 224. Whoever, being the owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge, of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, neglects or refuses, when requested by the Secretary or other authorized officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, whether such request be made by registered mail, by telegraph, by visiting representative, or by one or more of these methods, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census or other schedule prepared and submitted to him under the authority of this title, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than sixty days, or both; and if he willfully gives a false answer to any such question, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 9. (a) Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, may . . . .

(1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or

(2) make any publication whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual under this title can be identified; or

(3) permit anyone other than the sworn officers and employees of the Department or bureau or agency thereof to examine the individual reports.

APPENDIX B

KIND OF BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION

Each establishment was assigned a kind-of-business classification, in accordance with the provisions of the 1949 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, as subsequently amended by the Bureau of the Budget for use in the 1954 Census of Business.

The problem of classification in the 1954 Census was somewhat complicated by the fact that establishments similar in character could have received different type Census forms on which to report their 1954 businesses. This occurred because the classification information on which the mailing of forms was based was not always complete or sufficiently up to date in terms of what was needed for the final classification. While each of the report forms required the establishment to designate its kind of business, the supporting information which was requested necessarily varied from form to form. In some cases, this undoubtedly resulted in different classifications being assigned similar establishments.

Because "nonemployers" were not required to prepare Census reports (information for them having been furnished by the Internal Revenue Service from 1954 tax returns), the system described above could not be used in classifying their returns. For the "nonemployers" the only information available for classification was the designation or description of the establishment entered on the tax form by the proprietor.

The difference in information collected and in the method of classifying establishments in this Census as referred to above led to some differences in the classification assigned as compared with the one which would have resulted from the system used in previous censuses. Although a precise measure of these differences is not available at this time, it is likely that in most kinds of business the differences in the classifications assigned tended to offset each other.

Known factors which might cause differences in specific kinds of business as compared with past censuses have been noted in the kind-of-business descriptions below.

KIND-OF-BUSINESS DESCRIPTIONS

Kind-of-business definitions are presented below under each of the major groups constituting the Selected Service Trades. In addition, discussions have been included for those kinds of business for which special problems existed.

Personal Services

This major group includes establishments primarily engaged in providing services generally involving the care of the person or his apparel, such as barber and beauty shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, laundries, and pressing and garment repair shops. The kinds of business classified within this group are the same as those included in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual as "Personal Services," major group 72.

Barber shops.--Establishments primarily engaged in furnishing barber services, with the exception of those shops owned by another business, and operated as a part of that business, such as a retail store or hotel. However, barber shop concessions (owned and operated independently), except concessions on trains and steamships, are included in this classification. Barber colleges are also included.

Beauty shops.--Establishments primarily engaged in furnishing beauty services, with the exception of those shops owned by another business, and operated as a part of that business, such as a department store, women's ready-to-wear store, or hotel. However, beauty shop concessions (owned and operated independently) in retail stores or hotels are included. Schools for the instruction of beauty shop operators are also included.

Barber and beauty shops combined.--Establishments which combine the functions of a barber shop and a beauty shop at the same site.

Funeral service, crematories.--Establishments primarily engaged in preparing the dead for burial and conducting funerals. Receipts include the sale of funeral merchandise such as caskets, burial clothing, etc. Also included are sales of flowers, receipts from ambulance service and other receipts from business activities conducted at the establishment. Not included are repayments of cash advances made by the establishment to cover such items as cemetery expenses, flowers, livery service and other items not included in the price of the complete funeral. Crematories operated by cemeteries or those whose primary source of receipts is from space rental or sale, or the sale of interment vessels are not included in the Census.

Photographic studios (including commercial photography).--Establishments primarily engaged in photography for the general public, and commercial users. Included in this classification are portrait photographers, school, home and transient photographers, aerial photographers, and photographic studios servicing advertising agencies, publishers and other commercial users, except motion picture producers.

Shoe repair shops.--Establishments primarily engaged in repairing footwear. Shoe repair departments conducted in connection with other service establishments (such as valet shops, laundries, and cleaning and dyeing plants), or with retail establishments (such as shoe stores and department stores) are not included in this classification, unless independently operated as leased departments or concessions.

Shoeshine parlors.--Establishments primarily engaged in shining shoes. Shoeshine departments of shoe repair shops, valet shops, and other service or retail establishments are not included in this classification, unless independently operated as leased departments or concessions.

Hat cleaning shops.--Establishments primarily engaged in cleaning and blocking hats. Hat cleaning departments of shoeshine parlors, valet shops, and other service or retail establishments are not included in this classification, unless independently operated as leased departments or concessions.

Cleaning, pressing shops, and independent plant outlets.--Independently owned shops primarily engaged in pressing or arranging for the cleaning and pressing of clothing for individuals. Valet shops and establishments generally known as "tailor shops," primarily engaged in garment pressing, are included in this classification, but custom tailors are classified in Retail Trade. Establishments known as "cleaners" which do no dry cleaning but have their cleaning done for them by cleaning and dyeing plants and independently operated collecting and distributing agencies serving cleaning and dyeing plants or power laundries are included in this classification. Not included in this classification are data for plant-owned shops for the pick-up and delivery of cleaning work. Receipts, employment, and payroll, but not number of establishments data for such shops have been included in the classification "Cleaning and dyeing plants."

Business Services (Except Accounting, Auditing, Bookkeeping)

This major group includes establishments primarily engaged in providing services, not elsewhere classified, to business enterprises. The kinds of business classified within this group in the 1954 Census of Business are the same as those classified in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual as "Miscellaneous Business Services," major group 73, with the exception of "Accounting, Auditing, and Bookkeeping Services," group 737, which is not included in the Census of Business.

The effect on coverage of the use of administrative records in the 1954 Census in place of the personal enumeration used in previous censuses is particularly noticeable for business service establishments. For such establishments, dollar volume and number of establishments are both affected to such an extent as to make comparisons with previous censuses difficult. The degree of comparability is determined by the extent to which establishments in a particular kind of business were "non-recognizable" by personal enumeration in previous censuses.

For certain types of service establishments such as printing brokers, stamp trading and premium scrip companies, and advertising agencies the total receipts figures in this report include monies and merchandise transferred incidental to the services they provide.

For business service organizations which receive their revenues through a main office, but maintain service branches at other geographical locations, no attempt was made to allocate receipts to service branch locations. Consequently, such offices have been classified as auxiliary offices, and their employment and payroll are included only in Chapter 9. Some examples of kinds of business where this occurs are news syndicates, research laboratories, and business marketing and management consultants, and newspaper, radio, television advertising representatives.

Advertising agencies.--Establishments primarily engaged in contracting for space in magazines, newspapers, periodicals; for radio or television time; or for other advertising media on a commission or fee basis. Outdoor advertising services.--Establishments primarily engaged in the preparation and presentation of poster displays and painted and electric spectacular displays (principally outdoors) on panels, bulletins, and frames. Such establishments may (as incidental services) construct, repair, and maintain display boards and may post advertisements. Shops which make neon signs to order are included in the Census of Manufactures.

Hotels, Motels, Tourist Courts, Camps

This group consists of establishments engaged in providing lodgings or lodgings and meals to the general public except (1) rooming and boarding houses, (2) hotels which provide accommodations only for "permanent" residents, and (3) "tourist homes." Apartment or residential hotels which provide accommodations for transients have been included in the census.

Although the techniques used in taking the 1954 Census could have resulted in some differences in classification and coverage of establishments in this group as compared with previous censuses, these differences generally did not importantly affect comparability with previous census results. Outlined below are the main problems stemming from the use of administrative records in the 1954 Census for these kinds of business:

(1) In the 1954 Census, a different report form was used for employer establishments which were classified as "hotels" in the records of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance (BOASI) from that used for establishments which in the BOASI records were classified as "motels," "trailer parks" or "sporting and recreation camps." Because of the lack of entirely objective criteria for distinguishing between these two categories of establishments, it is possible that similar establishments could have been assigned different classifications depending on the report form used. In previous censuses, where the classification was made by enumerators, there was a similar problem of classification. It is possible that enumerator assigned classifications in previous censuses did not coincide with the classifications assigned in the 1954 Census for the same establishments.

(2) In order to account for hotels operated by firms classified in the real estate business by BOASI, hotel report forms were mailed to all BOASI reporting units with eight or more employees in that classification. However, reporting units with fewer than eight employees were not canvassed in the Census. To the extent that these units may have operated hotels or other lodging places, such places would not have been included in the Census.

(3) In the 1954 Census, the classification of establishments with no paid employees was based on a brief kind-of-business description entered on the tax form. The necessity for relying on this description could have resulted in the exclusion of some establishments which might properly belong in the scope of the census. If, for example, in filing an income tax report, the proprietor of a lodging place at a resort area described his business as operating a rooming or boarding home, the establishment would have been omitted from the census as being out of scope. In 1948, using personal enumeration, the same establishment could have been classified by the Census enumerator as a hotel if it had a sign designating itself as a hotel. The effect on the statistics of dollar volume of hotel business of establishments where this and similar problems of classification are likely to occur would, however, be slight since these are typically small establishments.

(4) It is likely that, in the case of establishments with no paid employment, some establishments, which by 1948 Census rules would have been classified as "eating" or "drinking" places, were classified in the 1954 Census as hotels This could have resulted because, for establishments with no paid employees, there was no means for applying the 1948 Census rule which excluded from the hotel category those establishments with fewer than 25 guest rooms which had less than 5 percent of receipts from room rental. As this difference in procedure is limited to small establishments, i.e., those with no paid employment, the effect is more apparent in count of establishment than in receipts or other figures shown in the Census reports. The effect of the difference in 1948 and 1954 classification procedures on the count of hotels is particularly marked in the case of Pennsylvania.

In the 1954 Census, sporting and recreational camps were added to the scope of the Census of Business. Because of difficulties in making definitive classifications in all cases, some of these establishments in previous censuses probably were classified as hotels or motels.

Hotels.--This classification consists of establishments known as hotels, engaged in providing lodging, or lodging and meals, to the general public. In 1954, hotels were included regardless of the number of guest rooms; in 1948 hotels with less than 6 rooms were omitted. Hotels operated by membership organizations, but open to the public, and apartment hotels which provide accommodations for transients are included. Rooming and boarding houses, private residences commonly known as tourist homes and apartment or residential hotels which provide no accommodations for transients are not included in the Census of Business.

Year-round hotels.--Hotels which normally are in operation at least 9 months of the year.

Seasonal hotels.--Hotels which normally are in operation less than 9 months of the year.

Motels, tourist courts.--This classification consists of establishments known as motels, tourist courts, tourist camps, or motor courts primarily engaged in providing accommodations in furnished cabins or similar structures. In 1954 motels and tourist courts were included regardless of the number of rental units; in 1948, motels and tourist courts with less than 3 rental units were omitted. Tourist homes (private residences furnishing lodging to motorists) are excluded from the census. Commercially operated sporting and recreational camps (such as boys' and girls' camps, fishing and hunting camps, and dude ranches) are separately classified.

Trailer parks.--This classification consists of establishments known as trailer parks, primarily engaged in renting trailer space and providing utilities such as water and electricity. Trailer parks were not included in the 1948 Census of Business.

Sporting, recreational camps.--This classification consists of commercially operated sporting or recreational camps providing lodging or lodging and meals. These include boys' and girls' camps, fishing and hunting camps, and dude ranches. Camps primarily receiving their financial support from subsidies, donations, contributions, etc., are not included. Summer day camps where the children return home each night are excluded as are also establishments operated by membership organizations and not open to the general public.

APPENDIX F

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Admissions (number).--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Admissions receipts.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

City size.--Each establishment included in the 1954 Census of Business was classified into one of nine city-size groups, based on the number of inhabitants in the city in which the establishment was located. City size was determined by the 1950 Census of Population count, except for places which had special censuses taken by the Bureau of the Census between April 1, 1950, and September 15, 1954. The group entitled "Remainder of United States" included all establishments located in incorporated cities of less than 2,500 inhabitants, and in rural areas.

Concessions.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Cooperative.--See Legal Form of Organization.

Corporation.--See Legal Form of Organization.

Employment size.--Employment-size analyses of 1954 Census of Business data are shown only for "establishments operated entire year." Establishments which operated 10 months or more during the year and which were in operation at the end of the year are classified as "entire-year" establishments. In 1954, seasonal businesses owned the entire year (as defined above) were also classified as "entire-year" establishments and their employment size measured by the number of paid employees on the payroll during the week of November 15. Year-round establishments operated less than 10 months during the year (both those which were and those which were not in business at the end of the year) were not distributed by employment size, but were included with "establishments not operated entire year." In 1948, all establishments, regardless of the number of months operated, were included in the tabulations on the basis of the number of employees as of the week of November 15. Proprietors and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in establishing employment size in either census.

In making comparisons with employment-size tabulations in the 1948 Census of Business publications, the following changes in methodology, each of which had a significant effect on the 1954 tabulations, should be taken into account:

1. In 1948, part-year establishments were distributed in the "employment-size" tabulations on the basis of their employment during the workweek ended nearest November 15. In 1954, they have not been so distributed among the various size classes.

2. In 1948, all establishments having sales of $500 or more were included in the census tabulations. In 1954, service establishments which had no payroll during the year were excluded from the tabulations if their receipts were less than $1,000. In 1948, there were approximately 46,000 establishments with no payroll and receipts of $500 to $1,000 included in the tabulations.

These changes in methodology did not have any significant effect on size classes with 20 or more employees.

Establishments.--Census of Business figures represent a summary of reports for individual "establishments" rather than "companies." A separate report was obtained for each location where business was conducted, including each location of multiunit organizations. Each report in the Census was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted. For purposes of the count of establishments those which conducted business at some time during 1954 but went out of business before the end of the year are excluded; however, other data pertaining to such establishments are included in the tabulations. (See COMPARISON OF 1948 AND 1954 CENSUSES, Item 3, Introduction).

Although the tabulations of the Census are on an establishment rather than ownership basis, in certain tables the establishment figures are grouped into ownership categories. This is the case in Chapter 4, "Single Units and Multiunits" and in a planned company statistics bulletin covering company activities in all parts of the 1954 Censuses of Business, Manufactures, and Mineral Industries.

Where two or more activities were carried on under the same ownership at a single establishment, the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity and all data for it included in that classification. However, when these activities were conducted by separate business entities, each entity was treated as an establishment. Thus, a leased department in a department store (such as a beauty shop) was treated as a separate establishment and is included in these tabulations on the basis of its activities rather than as a part of the store within which it operates.

Data in this report generally exclude figures for those locations of a multiunit organization which service, or are auxiliary to, the operating establishments of the organization, such as separate garages, administrative offices, etc. Information for this type of unit is included separately, however, in Chapter 9. In the 1948 Business Census, figures for such units were included in the Service Trade tabulations, but not separately identified.

Family workers.--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

Film packages for television.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

"Full workweek" employees.--"Full workweek" employees include employees, whether regular or seasonal who, for the specified pay period, were paid for working at least the number of hours typically worked in a week by employees of the reporting establishment. All other employees paid during that workweek were reported as part-workweek employees.

Guest rooms (hotels).--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

HOTELS AND MOTELS TERMINOLOGY

Family workers.--Family workers include members of the family (wives, sons, daughters, etc.) who worked 15 hours or more in the business during the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954, and were not paid a salary or wage.

Guest rooms (hotels).--Guest rooms consist of the number of separate hotel rooms (transient or residential). Suites of rooms were not counted as units but as individual rooms (e.g., a three-room suite was counted as three rooms.)

Transient guest rooms consist of the number of rooms usually available for the occupancy of persons seeking lodging for short periods of time usually less than a month, and generally subject to the regular daily or weekly rates.

Residential guest rooms consist of the number of rooms usually available for the occupancy of persons seeking lodging for a period of time usually more than a month, and generally receiving reductions from the regular daily or weekly rates.

Percentage of occupancy.—This was computed by the respondent in accordance with the following instructions:

a. Multiply the number of guest rooms in your hotel by 365. (If you operated less than a full year use the number of days you actually operated instead of 365.)

b. Determine the number of rooms which were occupied each day that you operated. Total these figures for all days operated.

c. Your percentage of occupancy is the number you get in "b" divided by the number you get in "a", multiplied by 100.

If records are not available as a basis for computing percentage of occupancy, your best estimate will be acceptable.

Rental units (motels and tourist courts).—Rental units consist of rooms, apartments, cabin units, and other types of lodging accommodations normally rented as a single unit.

Supplemental compensation.—This item consists of the number of employees who received, in addition to their regular compensation, living quarters and meals without charge, or tips, during the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1954.

Weighted average percentage of occupancy.—This item is derived by computing the average number of guest rooms occupied during the year (total guest rooms for each hotel multiplied by its percentage of occupancy) and dividing the sum of the averages by the total number of guest rooms in the group under consideration.

Example:

Establishments in the area	Number of guest rooms reported (Col. 1)	Annual percentage of occupancy reported (Col. 2)	Average number of rooms occupied during the year (Col. 1 x Col. 2)
Hotel A.....	250	80	200
Hotel B.....	200	70	140
Hotel C.....	170	60	102
Hotel D.....	120	90	108
Total.....	740	.....	550

The weighted average percentage of occupancy for this group of hotels is 76 (550 divided by 740).

Individual proprietorships.—See Legal Form of Organization.

Legal form of organization.—Each establishment included in the 1954 Census of Business was classified into one of the following legal forms of organization:

1. Individual proprietorship—These are establishments owned by one person.

2. Partnership—These are establishments owned by two or more persons each of whom has a financial interest in the business.

3. Corporation—These are establishments owned by an organization or company legally incorporated under State laws. In the 1948 Census of Business, cooperatives incorporated under either the regular or special corporation laws of the States were classified as corporations. In the 1954 tabulations cooperatives were separately classified.

4. Cooperative—A cooperative establishment is defined as one owned by an association of customers of the establishment. Most are incorporated under State cooperative association laws. In general, the distinguishing features of a cooperative are patronage dividends based on the volume of expenditures by the member, and a limitation of one vote per member regardless of the amount of stock owned. The establishments are open to the public as a rule, but generally are patronized primarily by members of the association operating the business.

5. Other legal forms—These are establishments whose legal form of organization is not one of those defined above. Included in this legal form are estates, receiverships, joint ventures, etc. In the publications of the 1948 Census of Business, cooperatives not incorporated under the regular corporation laws or under special cooperative association laws were also included in this category. In the 1954 tabulations such establishments were classified as "Cooperatives."

Comparisons between the 1954 and 1948 tabulations by legal form of organization should take into account the changes in classification discussed above, and other differences discussed under "Comparison of 1948 and 1954 Censuses" of the Introduction.

MOTION PICTURE TERMINOLOGY

Motion picture film exchanges

Film packages for television—Combinations of features, short subjects, and other film sold as a package for television exhibition.

Operating expenses—Consists of payroll, advertising, administrative, occupancy and other expenses. Also includes their film rental payments to other film exchanges and to producers.

Operating receipts—Consists of film rental receipts from exhibitors for United States and foreign theatrical and nontheatrical film; receipts from sale of movie prints and merchandise; receipts from rental of equipment; receipts from export operations; and miscellaneous receipts from customers. To avoid duplication of receipts this item does not include the reporting company's share of receipts from film rentals collected by others.

Motion picture production

Operating expenses—Consists of cost of materials and supplies; payments of rights and royalties; payments for laboratory work; payments to other producers for contract productions; payroll; and other operating expenses both inside and outside the United States.

Operating receipts—Includes only receipts from outright sale of film, from film rentals received directly from exhibitors, and miscellaneous receipts other than from film rentals. Earnings from films which are distributed by film exchanges, whether independent or producer-owned, are not included in receipts of motion-picture producers. Such receipts are shown under "film exchanges." Only those producers' receipts from studio rental, laboratory work, loan of players, etc., which were not netted against expenses were included in receipts.

Motion picture theaters

Admissions (number)—Consists of number of paid admissions during the year.

Admissions receipts—Consists of the amount paid by theater patrons for admission, exclusive of any Federal, State, or local admissions taxes. (Such taxes are, however, included in total theater receipts.)

Rentals and concessions—Consists of the amount received as space rental from operators of leased departments and concessions located in the theater, regardless of whether compensation was in the form of a flat rental or a percentage of the receipts. Also included is the theater-owner's share of receipts of coin-operated machines operated by others at the theater. This item does not include receipts from rental of stores, offices, or apartments.

Sale of candy, popcorn, etc.—Consists of receipts from sale of candy, popcorn, soft drinks, or other merchandise sold by the theater owner, including sales and excise taxes on such merchandise. This item does not include either the total amount nor the theater-owner's share of receipts from the sale of merchandise by operators of concessions or leased departments located at the theater. The theater-owner's share of such receipts is included in "rentals and concessions" receipts.

Showings—A showing or performance is defined as ONE presentation of a combination of one or more features and short subjects (cartoons, newsreels, etc.). Respondents were asked to determine the number of showings on the basis of the following instructions:

Suppose a theater, operating every day of the year, scheduled five showings for each Saturday, Sunday, and holiday and three for each other day. (Of the 365 days in 1954, 104 were Saturdays and Sundays. The remaining 261 included certain holidays.)

Suppose that there were 6 holidays that did not fall on Saturdays or Sundays. These 6 should be deducted from the 261 weekdays and added to the 104 Saturdays and Sundays, making 255 days with three showings and 110 days with five showings. The total number of showings would be calculated as follows:

255 weekdays X 3	= 765
110 Saturdays, Sundays, Holidays X 5	= 550
Total showings in 1954	= 1,315

Theater capacity.--Represents number of seats in the case of regular motion picture theaters and number of cars in the case of drive-in theaters.

Multiunits.--See Single Units and Multiunits.

Operating expenses (film exchanges).--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Operating expenses (film production).--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Operating receipts (film exchanges).--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Operating receipts (film production).--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Partnership.--See Legal Form of Organization.

Payroll, entire year.--Payroll includes all forms of compensation (salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, and payments in kind) paid during the year to all employees. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; however it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Included in payroll are the value of payments in kind, such as free meals, lodgings, etc., received by employees from their employers but not amounts received by employees as tips, etc. Payroll is reported before deductions for Social Security, income tax, insurance dues, etc.

Payroll-workweek ended nearest November 15.--This item consists of payroll, as defined above, which was paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1954. Establishments whose payroll period was other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Paid employees--workweek ended nearest November 15.--Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest November 15.

Percentage of occupancy.--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

Proprietors of unincorporated businesses.--Includes owners or partners of unincorporated businesses who devoted the major portion of their time to the operation of the business.

Receipts.--Receipts are defined to include total receipts from customers during 1954, after deduction of refunds or allowances to customers. Receipts include receipts from sales of merchandise as well as from services to customers but exclude amounts other than those received from customers, such as income from investments, rental of real estate, etc. They include the amount of local and State sales taxes, amusement taxes, or Federal excise taxes which are collected by the establishment directly from customers, and paid directly by the establishment to a local, State, or Federal taxing agency. Excise and other taxes which are paid by the manufacturer or wholesaler and passed along to the service establishment are also included.

The receipts figures, therefore, represent total receipts and sales of all establishments primarily engaged in the selected service trades. They do not include service receipts of retailers, manufacturers, wholesalers, and other businesses whose primary activity is other than in the selected service trades. They do, however, include receipts other than from service activities (e.g., sales of merchandise at wholesale or retail) by establishments primarily engaged in the selected service trades.

Receipts size.--Receipts-size analyses of the 1954 Census of Business data are shown only for "establishments operated entire year." Establishments which operated 10 months or more during the year and which were in operation at the end of the year are classified as "entire-year" establishments. In the 1948 Census, however, all establishments which began operations after January 1, 1948, were classified as "establishments not operated entire year." This difference in classification practices in the two censuses, plus the effect of the exclusion, in 1954, of a large proportion of part-year reports resulting from raising the minimum size for inclusion in the census (see COMPARISON OF 1948 AND 1954 CENSUSES in Introduction), accounts for a considerable portion of the marked reduction in the number of establishments shown as "not operated entire year" in 1954 as compared with 1948. In both the 1954 and the 1948 Censuses, seasonal establishments which normally operate for only a part of the year were treated as "entire year" provided that they were under the same ownership for the required period as defined in the respective censuses. For purposes of receipts-size tabulations, the full-year establishments have been classified into 12 receipts-size groups depending on the volume of receipts reported for the year 1954. Establishments were classified by receipts-size group after the reported receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. This method differs from that used in the 1948 Census of Business, when establishments were assigned to receipts-size intervals on the basis of their reported unrounded receipts. This change in methodology affects the lower size classes significantly, but has little effect on the upper size classes.

The change in minimum size of establishment from $500 in 1948 to $1,000 in 1954 (see Introduction, COMPARISON OF 1948 AND 1954 CENSUSES), also affects the lower receipts-size intervals. Comparisons between the 1948 and 1954 receipts-size tabulations should take these two factors into account, particularly for the lower size classes. Comparison of 1948 and 1954 receipts-size distributions also should take into consideration differences discussed in the Introduction under "COMPARISON OF 1948 AND 1954 CENSUS" and in Appendix B, "KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION."

Rentals and concessions.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Rental units (motels and tourist courts).--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

Sale of candy, popcorn, etc.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Showings.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Single units and multiunits.--An establishment is classified as a single unit if it is operated by a firm which operates only one establishment, or no other establishment in the same general kind of business as the establishment concerned. An establishment is classified as a multiunit if it is one of two or more establishments in the same general kind of business operated by the same firm. The following listing indicates the kind-of-business groupings of service establishments made for the purpose of distinguishing between single unit and multiunit establishments:

1. Barber shops, beauty shops
2. Funeral service
3. Laundry, cleaning and related services
4. Photographic studios, photofinishing laboratories
5. Shoe repair shops, shoeshine parlors, and hat cleaning shops
6. All other personal services
7. Advertising
8. All other business services (except accounting, auditing, and bookkeeping)
9. All automobile repair services and garages
10. All miscellaneous repair shops
11. Motion picture theaters
12. All other amusements
13. Hotels, motels, tourist courts, and camps

In these tables, figures are combined for single units of "one-establishment" firms and for single units of "multi-establishment firms." A one-establishment service firm single unit is a service establishment operated by a firm which operates only that one establishment. A multi-establishment service firm single unit is a service establishment operated by a firm which operates two or more establishments in the scope of the 1954 Censuses, but no other service establishment in the same general kind of business as the establishment concerned. For example, a firm operates three service establishments: a barber shop, a television repair shop, and a motion picture theater. All three of these establishments are single units of a multi-establishment firm for Census purposes since each store is classed in a kind of business which is not the same general kind of business as any other establishment in the same firm.

Standard Metropolitan Area.--In addition to those for States, counties, and cities, Census of Business statistics are presented for standard metropolitan areas. These are areas which have been defined and established cooperatively by a number of interested Federal agencies under the direction of the Bureau of the Budget for purposes of compilation and presentation of a wide variety of statistical data on a uniform area basis.

The general concept adopted in defining a standard metropolitan area was that of an integrated economic area with a large volume of daily travel and communication between a central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and the outlying parts of the area. This resulted in an area considerably more restricted, especially for the larger cities, than the "market" or "trading" area. Each area (except in New England) consists of one or more entire counties. In New England, metropolitan areas have been defined on a town basis rather than a county basis. A complete statement of the principles adopted as a guide in applying this general concept to the definition of individual areas will be found in a document issued by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President, dated July 28, 1950, entitled "Standard Metropolitan Area Definitions."

The 173 standard metropolitan areas in continental United States and Hawaii for which 1954 Census of Business data are included in this volume are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget as of June 8, 1954. (See Appendix G).

Supplemental compensation.--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

Theater capacity.--See Motion Picture Terminology.

Weighted average percentage of occupancy.--See Hotels and Motels Terminology.

ITEM 8.—ANALYSIS OF RECEIPTS

Line a (1).—Report the amount received from the sale of admissions exclusive of any Federal, State, or local admissions taxes.

Line a (2).—Report the amount of admissions taxes paid by you directly to Federal taxing agencies.

Line a (3).—Report the amount of admissions taxes paid by you directly to State and local taxing agencies.

Line a (4).—Report the total receipts from merchandise sold by you, including all sales taxes and excise taxes.

Do not include here either the total or your share of receipts from coin-operated machines operated by OTHERS on your premises or from sales of merchandise by operators of leased departments or concessions located in this theater; include your share of such receipts on line b (1).

Line a (6).—This amount should be the same as the amount reported in Item 3 c.

Line b (1).—Report here the amount received by you as space rental from operators of leased departments and concessions located in this establishment, regardless of whether compensation was in the form of a flat rental or a percentage of the receipts. Also include here YOUR SHARE of the receipts of coin-operated machines operated by OTHERS on your premises. Do not include anywhere on this report receipts from rental of stores, offices, or apartments.

ITEM 9.—NUMBER OF ADMISSIONS AND SHOWINGS, 1954

Line b.—A showing or performance is defined as ONE presentation of a combination of one or more features and short subjects (cartoons, newsreels, etc.). To determine the number of showings or performances for the year, add the number of showings each day for every day this theater operated in 1954.

Example: Suppose a theater, operating every day of the year, scheduled five showings for each Saturday, Sunday, and holiday and three for each other day.

(Of the 365 days in 1954, 104 were Saturdays and Sundays. The remaining 261 included certain holidays.)

Suppose that there were 6 holidays that did not fall on Saturdays or Sundays. These 6 should be deducted from the 261 weekdays and added to the 104 Saturdays and Sundays, making 255 days with three showings and 110 days with five showings. The total number of showings would be calculated as follows:

255 weekdays × 3	= 765
110 Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays × 5	= 550
Total showings in 1954	= 1,315
